Funky start to 2008

Adamstown's dungeon jazz kicks off 2008 with one of Newcastle's most enduring bands, the Funky Do Das.

Combining a consuming passion for jazz, the influences of the 60's and 70's music they grew up with and fifteen years of performing, the four piece Funkys bring their own unique 'Swing'n, Groov'n, Latin, Funk'n' sound to dungeon jazz on February 7.

"The Funky Do Das are consummate musicians and entertainers," said dungeon jazz director, Rod Barnes.

"Across the board - from festivals, events and recording to national and overseas touring – they have etched for themselves an enviable reputation as fun entertainers who create brilliant music."

"Both the individual talents of Colin Stein (keys), Peter Gray (bass), Paul Isaacs (sax, flute) and Terry Morton (drums) and the group dynamic that comes from writing and performing together for some fifteen years, always guarantee the audience a great night out."

For bookings call 02 4962 1177 or online at: www.dungeonjazz.com.au

Doors open at 7.00pm, gig commences 7.30pm.

A concert/coffee shop style venue, dungeon jazz is located under the Uniting Church on the corner of Brunker and Glebe Roads, Adamstown, Newcastle N.S.W.
